

Ching-put Jan 3rd

Miss Louise Fields of Kansas City is the guest of her sister Mrs. Herman Debolt.

The Baptist Christmas tree was held in the Baptist church Dec. 28. An elaborate program had been prepared

The tree given to the pupils of the Christain Sunday school was well attended by young and old and many pretty gifts made glad the hearts of those who received them.

Corder Items.

The Bachelors' Congress was considered quite a success.

Joe Breitenstein of Blackburn was a visitor to our city Wednesday.

Miss Minnie Orear of Marshall is visiting her sister Mrs. E. Y. Gunn.

Miss Sarah Erwin of Marshall came in Wednesday for a visit with friends.

Hugh Hackley of Slater arrived

Wednesday for a short stay with home folks.

Miss Ida Johnson of Mayview visited Miss Byrd Hackley Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. E. S. Willis and family returned from a visit with relatives in Higinaville.

Mrs. J. Haas and son Frank went to Alma to be the guest of Mrs. R. C. Frerking.

Miss Mattie Oliver of Higginsville attended the Bachelors' Congress here Wednesday.

Mrs. Echardt's musical recital was postponed from Tuesday until Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Beattie came in Wednesday evening for a visit with Mrs. Nathan Corder.

J. Franklin Haas and Milton Hefner who have been attending school at Warrensburg came in Friday to spend the holidays with home folks.

Mr. William Gray, manager of the tile factory died Wednesday evening of pneumonia. Mr. Gray was ill only a short time and was buried Friday Dec. 30.

The Rhodes Scholars' Line-up.
Stanley K. Hornbeck in the January Book lovers Magazine.
It is too early to attempt to give anything but first impressions. These have certainly been favorable on both sides. The Telegraph says that the Scholars are "a carefully selected contingent of young men, with high idealism before them, who came at the bidding of that great Imperial magnanimous
'Rhodes of Oriel,'—a good average lot of earnest students. The Germans are the specialists, the Amerithe keenest, the South Africans the worst educated. The Teuton knows best what he wants. The American honestly thinks he is coming to the 'old home' and desires to associate himself in every way with the life of the place. As for athletics, the German will probably try rowing, the South African will play foot-ball, and the American will do his best to get in for everything. The Telegraph may be corrected in one point—the Germans, at least those who came this year, are not, with one exception, specialists. The term could much more properly be applied to the Ame leaves. The South African can be called "worst educated" only in the sense of "less educated" as he averages about two years younger than the rest and has perhaps not had quite as wide advantages—but the adjective "worst" rather does him an injustice.

The First Instance.

Corra Hubbard, an inmate of the State penitentiary, whose sentence has been commuted by Governor D. and who will be released from institution January 1, bears the distinction of being the first female woman to serve a term in the State penitentiary on this, what was a bank robbery, having served a term of twelve years.

...I found her with Tom's
...—Detroit